Definition of QCM

PPC's Guide to Audits of Local Governments are quality control materials (QCM). The AICPA defines QCM as materials (for example, manuals or tools), including industry- or subject matter-specific materials, intended to enable the operation of a firm's system of quality control and promote consistency in performing quality engagements. QCM may be made available through technology, for example, through automated tools and techniques, and IT applications.

QCM address standards and interpretive guidance related to accounting; audit, attestation, review, compilation, or preparation engagements or other services that CPA firms may provide; or ethics, independence, quality control, quality management, peer review, or practice monitoring related to those services.

Other QCM Providers

The elements of the QCM provided and within this description are delivered by Thomson Reuters (Tax and Accounting) Inc. (Thomson Reuters) and no other QCM provider.

Characteristics of the QCM

The Guide provides the following:

- A full set of guidance and practice aids to perform an audit of the financial statements in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAS) of local governments covered by the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, State and Local Governments.
- Guidance and practice aids to perform an audit under the additional standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States (commonly referred to as a Yellow Book audit).
- Limited guidance and practice aids to perform the compliance portion of a single audit (the additional procedures required by Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards). The Guide is not intended to be used for program-specific audits.

The practice aids provide a means to document compliance with relevant standards and interpretive guidance and include illustrative auditor's reports; engagement, management representation, confirmation, and other illustrative letters; checklists; and audit programs.

Description, as of April 30, 2024, of Thomson Reuters' PPC's Guide to Audits of Local Governments,
February 2024, 39th Edition

The Guide addresses engagement-level quality control requirements but does not address firm-level quality control system requirements. Consequently, the Guide is intended to be used in conjunction with PPC's Guide to Quality Control.

For single audits, the Guide does not include certain practice aids with guidance based on the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Compliance Supplement. Thus, the Guide is intended to be used in conjunction with PPC's Government Documents Library (the "Library") and the applicable OMB Compliance Supplement. The Library provides the most recent government documents, as well as PPC's compliance audit programs and other practice aids, which reflect the most recent edition of the OMB Compliance Supplement. The Library is intended to be used in conjunction with the Guide by auditors performing single audits and is updated as necessary to keep the documents current.

Relevant Standards and Interpretive Guidance Addressed by the Guide

Auditing Standards and Interpretive Guidance

The Guide addresses relevant auditing standards and interpretive guidance issued and effective by the Auditing Standards Board (ASB) of the AICPA through February 2024.

Although the following may not be fully effective at the time of publication, the user applying the guidance in the Guide must evaluate each standard's applicability and effective date based on the period covered in each specific engagement. The following auditing standard was issued through February 2024, and is fully incorporated into the Guide, with the extant guidance replaced:

- SAS No. 147, Inquiries of the Predecessor Auditor Regarding Fraud and Noncompliance with Laws and Regulations, is effective for audits of financial statements for periods beginning on or after June 30, 2023, and does not prohibit early implementation.

The following auditing standards were issued through February 2024, were not fully effective at the time of publication, and are not fully incorporated into the Guide:

- SAS No. 146, Quality Management for an Engagement Conducted in Accordance With Generally Accepted Auditing Standards, is effective for engagements conducted in accordance with U.S. GAAS for periods beginning on or after December 15, 2025. The Guide provides an overview of SAS No. 146; however, the requirements of this standard have not been incorporated into this edition of the Guide. It is expected to be fully incorporated into a future edition of the Guide. SAS No. 146 does not prohibit early implementation.
- SAS No. 149, Special Considerations - Audits of Group Financial Statements (Including the Work of Component Auditors and Audits of Referred-to Auditors), is effective for audits of group financial statements for periods ending on or after December 15, 2026. The Guide provides an overview of SAS No. 149; however, the requirements of this standard have not been incorporated into this edition of the Guide. It is expected to be fully incorporated into a future edition of the Guide. SAS No. 149 does not prohibit early implementation.

The Guide also addresses the AICPA Audit and Accounting Guide, State and Local Governments, as of March 15, 2023.

Description, as of April 30, 2024, of Thomson Reuters' PPC's Guide to Audits of Local Governments,

The Guide addresses the following standards, regulations, and interpretive guidance related to Yellow Book and single audits issued through February 2024:

- Government Auditing Standards, 2018 Revision Technical Update April 2021
- Government Auditing Standards, 2024 Revision (2024 Yellow Book). A system of quality management that complies with Government Auditing Standards is required to be designed and implemented by December 15, 2025. An audit organization should complete its evaluation of the system of quality management by December 15, 2026. The Guide provides an overview of the changes to the 2024 Yellow Book; however, the requirements of the 2024 Yellow Book have not been incorporated into this edition of the Guide. It is expected to be fully incorporated into a future edition of the Guide. Early implementation of the 2024 Yellow Book is permitted.

Other AICPA Professional Standards

The Guide incorporates professional standards from the AICPA, beyond the auditing standards, that are relevant to this Guide. These include standards relating to ethics from the AICPA Code of Professional Conduct in the context of their application to the Guide.

Accounting Standards

The primary focus of the Guide is on engagement standards rather than accounting standards; however, it does provide relevant industry accounting guidance. In addition, accounting standards with disclosure requirements are included in the Disclosure Checklists (ALG-CX-13 series).

The Guide addresses relevant accounting standards issued and effective by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) through February 2024 and up to GASB Statement No. 102, Certain Risk Disclosures, and GASB Interpretation No. 6, Recognition and Measurement of Certain Liabilities and Expenditures in Governmental Fund Financial Statements.

Although the following may not be fully effective at the time of publication, the user applying the guidance in the Guide must evaluate each standard's applicability and effective date based on the period covered in each specific engagement. The following relevant accounting standards were issued through February 2024, and dual guidance is provided:
